HINDUS DO NOT LIKE ECLIPSE OF THE MOON

(By Associated Press)
CALCUTTA, India, Jan. 4.—The moon's release from the jaws of a mythical demon was anxiously watched and prayed for by thousands of people throughout India during a recent eclipse which was visible here. Hindus regard an eclipse as the act of a demon called Rahu, who is believed to swallow the moon and then disgorge it.

On the Howrah bridge across the Hooghly river, dense crowds waited for the first glimpse of the veiled moon; then with one voice cried out: "Isko chhodo! chhodo—"let it go, leave it." Before dusk, the was swarmed with bathers, as bathing during an eclipse is considered a soul-saving act.

AMUSEMENTS

"IN FOLLY'S TRAIL" AT THE BUTLER TODAY

There will be fewer dry eyes than dry throats today at the Butler, when Carmel Myers makes her appearance in "In Folly's Trail" after an absence of two years on the stage. There are certain scenes in this photoplay that involve a reminiscent moisture to the eyes and a reminiscent dryness to the throat. A Bacchanalian revel at the home of a millionaire of modern Babylon is one of the scenes filmed for the screen. The cellar of the mansion is stocked in a manner that would do credit to an Italian monastery of the fifteenth century, and the sight of the party given there is alluring. No other than Carmel Myers herself impersonates Folly in this dramatic sketch from Snappy Stories magazine. This is the character of a brazen little flapper of the idle Four Hundred of Bohemia whose to impersonate at a masked ball given by a rich admirer. The culmination of the ball is the unlocking of a huge golden key of the wine cellar and the adoration of the millionaire to "come see all to Folly," who provides over the juice of the grape. A struggling artist falls in love with this Folly with the result of a sequence of intrigue and entanglement that ends as every spectator hopes it will.

Added to the program will be a two-reel Sunshine comedy, "Pals and Peaches."

Tomorrow, Pearl White in "The Thief," from Henri Bernstein's celebrated stage success of New York, London and Paris.

Coming, Priscilla Dean in "The Virgin of Stamboul."

The Comstock district produced about 268,000 ounces, and several properties at Rochester produced about 572,000 ounces. In Churchill county a decided decrease resulted from the idleness of the Nevada Wonder mine.

The mine output of copper increased in quantity from 52,331,175 pounds in 1919 to about 55,790,000 pounds in 1920, but decreased in value from $9,733,559 to about $9,561,000. The output was less than half that of 1918. The Nevada Consolidated at Ely, in White Pine county, was the largest producer, and contributed more than 4,000,000 pounds of copper a month; but the Consolidated Copper Mines, in the same county, made no effort to produce copper ore under the prevailing conditions. The Mason Valley smelter at Thompson, in Lyon county, was idle during the entire year, and many of the mines of Lyon and Mineral counties therefore found it impossible to operate.

The mine output of lead increased in quantity from 15,349,376 pounds in 1919 to about 19,510,000 pounds in 1920, and in value from $531,517 to about $1,592,000. The Prince Consolidated mine, at Pioche, and the Yellow Pine mine, in Clark county, were the largest lead producers of the state. There was much activity in the mines near Pioche and a greater production from the Virginia Louise, Black Metals, Bristol Silver and Combined Metals. Near Arden, in Clark county, a body of lead ore was opened in the Potosi mine, formerly a large producer of zinc.

D. L. SAYRE DIES NEAR SACRAMENTO

Word reached Tonopah yesterday that D. L. Sayre passed away near Sacramento several days ago. "Larry" Sayre, as he was known to old-time Nevadans, was one of the first newspapermen to enter business in this state. He established the "Grantsville Sun" in Grantsville, Nye county, in 1878. After several years he again embarked in California where he edited the "Chloride Belt." Of late years Sayre has lived in California, having owned papers at Jamestown, Colusa, and Maxwell. During the Divide rush the late Larry back to the sagebrush, and for the past year he was watchman for the California mine in this city. A few months ago a general breakdown occurred and upon advice of his physician he departed for a lower altitude.

Deceased leaves a married daughter and a son who is in the United States army. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity.

GENERAL SALUTES AS BAND PLAYS "DE WACHT"

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Jan. 4.—The German newspapers publish a story from Prague saying a French general there stood at salute while a band played "Die Wacht am Rhine." He is said to have thought it was the Czech-Slovakian national air.

For the Perfect Foot—

You who have perfect feet quite likely do not appreciate the fact. You have always had them—you see no reason why your feet should fail you. Yet seven people out of every ten have weak or fallen arches.

Value your perfect foot and keep it perfect for all times—wear the ARCH PRESERVER SHOE with the concealed bridge which comfortably and properly supports and keeps the arch in normal shape.

If your feet are perfect the ARCH PRESERVER SHOE will keep them perfect, if they are not, this shoe will help them.

STATE TO SUPPORT HOMELESS CHILDREN

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 4.—Poland's new constitution probably will contain a provision for care of children by the state which will make it unique, in the opinion of officials here who have seen the draft. The article, which now is before the Polish diet, reads:

"Each child deprived of parental care, or who is neglected morally or materially, has the right to secure care and aid from the state. The sphere of the state's duties in this capacity will be defined separately by laws, which will foresee as well the protection of mothers who may require aid, before the birth of the child and the protection of the child in infancy."

As far as known here, no constitution in the world includes such a provision.
